File Sharing App

```
import necessary modules

for implementing the HTTP Web servers
import http.server

provides access to the BSD socket interface
import socket

a framework for network servers
import socketserver

to display a Web-based documents to users
import webbrowser

to generate qrcode
import pyqrcode
from pyqrcode import QRCode

convert into png format
import png

to access operating system control
import os
```

```
assigning the appropriate port value
PORT = 8010
this finds the name of the computer user
os.environ['USERPROFILE']

changing the directory to access the files desktop
with the help of os module desktop = os.path.join(os.path.join(os.environ['USERPROFILE']), 'OneDrive')
os.chdir(desktop)

creating a http request
Handler = http.server.SimpleHTTPRequestHandler # returns, host name of the system under # which Python interpreter is executed
hostname = socket.gethostname()

finding the IP address of the PC
s = socket.socket(socket.AF_INET, socket.SOCK_DGRAM)
s.connect(("8.8.8.8", 80))
IP = "http://" + s.getsockname()[0] + ":" + str(PORT)
```

```
link = IP

converting the IP address into the form of a QRcode
with the help of pyqrcode module

converts the IP address into a Qrcode
url = pyqrcode.create(link)
saves the Qrcode inform of svg
url.svg("myqr.svg", scale=8)
opens the Qrcode image in the web browser webbrowser.open('myqr.svg')

Creating the HTTP request and serving the # folder in the PORT 8010,and the pyqrcode is generated

continuous stream of data between client and server
with socketserver.TCPServer(("", PORT), Handler) as httpd: print("serving at port", PORT) print("Type this in your Browser", IP) print("or Use the QRCode")
    httpd.serve_forever()
```